【授業内容とその進め方】

The way that this class will proceed is somewhat unusual. During the course of the semester, the students will go through the process of writing an academic paper. We will not meet as a class every week. While the class will meet during certain weeks, other weeks will be devoted to conferences between me and individual students. By having these conferences, I will be able to give each student useful, individualized instruction.

【成績評価方法及び評価基準(最低達成基準を含む)】

The grades will be based on the following:

Preliminary writing assignment: 10%

First draft: 10%

Second draft: 10%

Giving peer feedback: 20%

Third draft: 10%

Final paper: 20%

Participating in writing conferences: 20%

【オフィスアワー：授業相談】

Tuesdays, 10:40 to 12:10, or by appointment

【学生へのメッセージ】

In order to become a good writer, it is important to learn the writing process. Through the use of several writing conferences, scheduled for different stages of writing an academic paper, I will help each student learn this process.

【その他】

This class will be limited to 20 students. I will give priority to students who inform me of their intention to take the class in advance. Therefore, if you want to take this class, you should come to my office to see me well before the start of the semester.
