【授業内容とその進め方】
The first 30 to 40 minutes of most classes will be used for extensive reading. The word "extensive" just means "a lot of," so "extensive reading" means "a lot of reading." I will bring many books to class, from which students can choose material to read. Students may also borrow books if they would like more reading practice. The rest of the class time will be used in two different ways. In some classes, we will do simple discussion and writing activities related to different topics. (I will ask students to choose topics that they are most interested in.) Students will also write about these topics in their journals. In other classes, students will learn how to write a good summary and how to express a sound argument or opinion.

電気通信大学 平成21年度シラバス

【授業時間外の学習（予習・復習等）】

Journal: Students should buy a B5 size notebook to use as their journal. I will give students questions to answer in their journals. Students should write at least half a page to one page, depending on the size of their handwriting, for each journal assignment. Every few weeks, I will collect the journals and respond to what each student has written.

There will also be other writing assignments. These will involve writing a summary and writing an argument.

Students may also borrow books to read outside class.
