【主題および達成目標】
The main goal of this class is for students to improve their ability to use written English. This includes reading ability, especially reading fluency, and writing ability, especially the ability to write strong opinions and good explanations. A second goal of the class is for students to become critical thinkers. A third goal is to become autonomous learners.

電気通信大学 平成19年度シラバス

【授業内容とその進め方】

In order for students to become more fluent readers and to learn more vocabulary, we will spend the first 40 minutes or so of each class doing extensive reading. I will bring about 100 books to class each week. These books will be at various difficulty levels. Students will choose a book that they think looks interesting and do silent reading. The second part of each class will be devoted to writing. We will focus on two different kinds of writing: opinions and explanations. In class, students will do activities related to writing opinions and explanations. Students will then do writing assignments at home related to these activities. They will keep these writing assignments in their journal, which I will collect and read every few weeks. Finally, students will do two additional writing assignments: an essay about a topic that we have discussed in class (500-750 words) and an explanation of some information that I give them (250-500 words).

【成績評価方法及び評価基準(最低達成基準を含む)】

Grades will be based on the work that students do in class and the homework assignments. Specifically:

- Attendance and active participation: 40%
- Journal writing assignments: 30% (10% for doing the assignments on time, 20% for quality)
- Essay assignment (500-750 words): 20%
- Explanation assignment (150-300 words): 10%

Students with more than four unexcused absences will not be able to pass the class. Being late three times will count as one absence. If you have a reason for being late or for missing class, please tell me.
