【授業内容とその進め方】

This class will be organized around various topics. The students will decide what these topics will be. Each topic will be used for multiple class sessions, usually between two and four class sessions per topic. In class, we will do various discussion activities related to the current topic.

Students will also be expected to keep a journal, to write one or two essays, and possibly to give a presentation.

【授業時間外の学習（予習・復習等）】

1. Journals: Almost every week, I will give students a question or questions about the current topic to answer, in English, in their journal. Every few weeks, I will collect the journals and give students feedback related to the content of their answers. (Students should purchase a B5 size notebook to use as their journal. They should write one page or more for each journal assignment.)
2. Each student will write either one or two essays. They may also need to revise these essays.
3. Some students will give a presentation based on one of their essays.

【成績評価方法及び評価基準(最低達成基準を含む)】

The grading system for this class is based on a grading contract. At the start of the semester, each student will decide what grade to work for.

In order to receive a grade of S, a student will have to write two S-quality essays (750-1000 words), give one presentation, actively participate in discussions, and do all the journal assignments.

In order to receive a grade of A, a student will have to write one A-quality essay (500-750 words), give one presentation, actively participate in discussions, and miss no more than one journal assignment.

In order to receive a grade of B, a student will have to write one B-quality essay (500-750 words), pay attention during discussions, and miss no more than two journal assignments.

If a student's grade on an essay is not adequate, he or she may revise the essay and resubmit it for a higher grade.

Students who do not do what is required to receive the grade that they have contracted for will receive a C or D.
